Preparing for September

In this final newsletter, we wanted to share with you all of the arrangements for September so that parents and students can be ready for their new start at secondary school.

We would also like to share some information about an organisation called Action Your Potential who we work with at The Angmering School. They provide a range of support to our students on managing their wellbeing and preparation for examinations.

They recently released a webinar to support parents and carers with children moving up to secondary school this year. The session is called 'Stepping Up To Challenge and Change' and a link to the recording can be found
