Word of the Week

This week's word of the week is pod/ped meaning foot. It has its origins in the Greek language and examples include podiatrist, a person who treats the feet and their ailments; a chiropodist or pedal, foot operated levers. What other examples can you think of?

Watch a Multilingual Debate

Come and see interpreting in action next Wednesday 21st March in C1 at 1.35pm. Snacks will be provided.

You will see Heriot-Watt University's annual Multilingual Debate being streamed live. It showcases the interpreting skills of students on its Languages (Interpreting and Translating) degree programme.

The event takes the form of a formal debate with two multilingual teams arguing for and against a motion of topical interest in a range of languages.

Red Nose Day 2024

A number of our students and staff took the opportunity to 'wear something red' in support of Comic Relief on Friday and we hope that, as a school community, we can raise some more funds for this excellent charity.

Career of the Week - Interpreter

An interpreter is a person who translates speech into different languages, usually at conferences or other meetings.

Interpreters work in many roles, and help people to communicate during GP appointments or police interviews, in war zones, in company meetings, or in politics at meetings involving heads of state and governments.

Some of the things that interpreters love about the job are the chance to hear and speak several languages, very varied work, having to think on their feet, the opportunity to travel and gain an insight into other cultures, working with different colleagues every day, and being able to help people who otherwise could not communicate.

Come and see interpreting in action next Wednesday 21st March in C1 at 1.35pm. Snacks will be provided.

You will see Heriot-Watt University's annual Multilingual Debate being streamed live. It showcases the interpreting skills of students on its Languages (Interpreting and Translating) degree programme.

The event takes the form of a formal debate with two multilingual teams arguing for and against a motion of topical interest in a range of languages. The teams deliver their views in their various native languages (French, German, Spanish, English, Arabic, Chinese, British Sign Language (BSL)).

Safety Notices

Road Safety : Cycling

Did you know that it's really important to be safe when cycling on the road? At school, we've been learning about road safety, but we need your help to make sure we're always being careful.

Some of us have been doing things that put us at risk, like cycling on the road without wearing a helmet, riding off the pavement without checking for traffic, cycling with two or three bikes side by side, and riding on pavements, which can be dangerous for pedestrians.

Remember to always wear a helmet, check for traffic before moving onto the road, ride in single-file, and be mindful of pedestrians when cycling on pavements.

By working together, we can all help each other stay safe. Thanks for your help!

Safety Notice : The Bowl

I hope this message finds you well. I would like to remind you of the importance of safety around water at the bowl. Please remember the following tips to ensure your wellbeing:

- Never swim in the bowl. There could be dangerous objects underneath the water surface that you cannot see.

Remember, safety should always be your top priority. Enjoy your time at the bowl, but please do so responsibly.
