Career of the Week - Youth Worker

To become a youth worker you'll need a minimum of a level 2 qualification to work with young people aged 11 and over. Qualifications include: Level 2 or 3 Certificate in Youth Work Practice or a Level 3 Diploma in Youth Work Practice. You could apply to do an apprenticeship, such as: Youth Support Worker Level 3 Advanced Apprenticeship or Youth Worker Level 6 Degree Apprenticeship.

Youth Workers will take on these responsibilities : support young people, including carers and people at risk of offending, run projects that focus on issues like health, bullying, crime or drugs, design and organise activity programmes for young people, work with social workers, teachers, probation officers and the police and keep confidential records, manage budgets and apply for funding.

Employers value work experience with young people so it's important to get as much as you can. You'll often need at least one year of experience to apply for a job or course in youth work.

You can find voluntary or part-time youth work opportunities through the National Council for Voluntary Organisations or through a local youth service.

Revision Tips

For year 10 and 11 students preparing for their GCSE exams, here are some revision tips:

1. Create a study schedule: Plan out your revision time for each subject and allocate specific times for studying different topics.
2. Review past papers: Practice answering past exam questions to familiarize yourself with the format and to identify areas for improvement.
3. Use visual aids: Create mind maps, diagrams, or flashcards to help you memorize key information and concepts.
4. Teach others: Explaining topics to friends or family members can help reinforce your understanding and identify areas where you need further revision.
5. Take regular breaks: Don't study for long periods without breaks. Take short, frequent breaks to help maintain focus and prevent burnout.
6. Stay organized: Keep your study space tidy and organized, and make sure your study materials are easily accessible.
7. Seek support: If you're struggling with a particular subject or topic, don't hesitate to seek help from your teachers, classmates, or online resources.
8. Stay healthy: Get enough sleep, eat well, and stay physically active. Taking care of your well-being is crucial during the revision period.

Remember, effective revision is about quality, not just quantity. Good luck with your GCSE exams!

Safety Notices

Road Safety : Cycling

Did you know that it's really important to be safe when cycling on the road? At school, we've been learning about road safety, but we need your help to make sure we're always being careful.

Some of us have been doing things that put us at risk, like cycling on the road without wearing a helmet, riding off the pavement without checking for traffic, cycling with two or three bikes side by side, and riding on pavements, which can be dangerous for pedestrians.

Remember to always wear a helmet, check for traffic before moving onto the road, ride in single-file, and be mindful of pedestrians when cycling on pavements.

By working together, we can all help each other stay safe. Thanks for your help!

Safety Notice : The Bowl

I hope this message finds you well. I would like to remind you of the importance of safety around water at the bowl. Please remember the following tips to ensure your wellbeing:

- Never swim in the bowl. There could be dangerous objects underneath the water surface that you cannot see.

Remember, safety should always be your top priority. Enjoy your time at the bowl, but please do so responsibly.
